"If you are currently an assistant principal and not sure if you are ready for a principalship, then I highly recommend participating in 'The Aspiring Principals Boot Camp' facilitated by Dr. Deborah Jones. This online course is the guidance that all assistant principals need. It helped to build my confidence in my everyday decision-making. The class sessions, assignments, and resources were all relevant to my current work, and most of all, it helped me get to know and validate myself. I thoroughly enjoyed the one-on-one coaching sessions with Dr. Jones because she addressed my individual needs and helped me plan my next steps. The wisdom and expertise shared throughout this course were one of a kind. I really benefitted and enjoyed it and would again if afforded the opportunity".
